LEGEND.

Highlands are covered with timber.
Prairie Lands, particularly those blocked off thus [] grow sugar beets, alfalfa, wheat, oats, barley, rye and all fruits and vegetables common to a temperate climate.
Mineral Lands, particularly those blocked off thus [] contain gold, silver, copper, lead and iron.
Colfax County is the richest county in the United States in point of natural resources containing 1,000 square miles of coal land, 1,000 square miles of timber land, 150,000 acres of grazing land, 800,000 acres of farming land with two acre feet of available flood water for each acre, 100,000 acres of mineral land containing gold, silver, copper, lead and iron.
All farming lands and mineral lands and most of the coal, timber and grazing lands lie in the Cimarron Valley.

FIGHTING FOR LIFE

Standard Oil Facing Trust Charges Brought Against Concern by Government

New York, May 25.—The Standard Oil company's defense to the government's suit against the New Jersey corporation, seeking to dissolve the holding concern on the ground that it is a trust, began today before Special Examiner Franklin Ferriss in this city.

Last fall Special Deputy Attorney General Frank B. Kellogg directed the government's case against the Standard Oil holdings and the holdings of other members of the Rockefeller family; also those of the others of the comparatively small group which, it is alleged, controls the corporation. Mr. Kellogg brought out that John D. Rockefeller's share of earnings by the Standard Oil company in twenty-four years was $143,499,054. The government's lawyer also elicited testimony and produced evidence respecting the methods by which, as charged by the government, the Standard drove its rival competitors from the oil regions and gradually absorbed its rivals.

A number of Standard Oil officials were examined on the stand, including William G. Rockefeller and Wesley H. Tilford, treasurer of the Standard. Henry M. Flagler was to have been called as a witness, but was excused until later. It is likely that he will be called upon to testify during the next few weeks, for the inquiry will probably last a month or more.

FISH'S SON GETS A JOB WITH BROKER TO LEARN FINANCE

New York, May 25.—After learning railroading from its "business end" by working in the shops and on regular trains of the Frisco road, Stuyvesant Fish, Jr., son of the former president of the Illinois Central railroad, has gone into a broker's office here to learn the financial end of railroading.

Young Fish has become a clerk in the office of William Saloman & Co., bankers and brokers, in Broad street, and members of the New York stock exchange.

Wall street prophesied that the son would help the father in that battle whose end is not yet—the fight against E. H. Harriman.

"The boy is merely trying to earn a living, like any other young man, and there should not be so much talk about that," said the elder Stuyvesant Fish.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT THE STATE UNIVERSITY

Boulder, Colo., May 25, (Special).—For the first time in the history of the institution an alumnus of the University of Colorado, situated at Boulder, will deliver the commencement oration before the graduating class. Rev. Harry Noble Wilson is the man. He took his Bachelor of Arts degree at the university in the spring of 1891. Following this he went to the McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, where he was graduated in 1894. Later he studied in the University of Jona, Germany. He has held various pastorates in Colorado and the middle west and at the present time is in charge of the work at the Central Presbyterian church at St. Paul, Minn. He is well known within the circles of the church as an earnest and eloquent orator. The fact that he is coming back to deliver a commencement oration within the halls of his alma mater is in some respects significant. In a state son as ours, where most of the educational institutions are comparatively young, a tone of maturity is given to any university which can find among her graduates one upon whom she may call at a time like this.

The graduation exercises at the university are being made more elaborate each year as the size of the institution and the number of graduates increases, and are gradually assuming the proportions and dignity of the larger eastern schools. Commencement week this year begins on Sunday, May 31, with the baccalaureate address by President Baker. The program for the week includes the farewell exercises at the various buildings, the presentation of Shakespeare's "Tempest," as the senior class play, on the lawn east of the historic old main building, a track and field meet with Leland Stanford university, the alumni reception and banquet with the various class reunions, the campus illumination, and the Sigma Ki and Phi Beta Kappa exercises, besides the commencement exercises proper, when the oration will be delivered by the Rev. Mr. Wilson and degrees will be conferred upon 150 graduates.

GETS YEAR IN PEN FOR CHICKEN STEALING

Leadville, May 25.—H. B. Walker, colored, was sentenced to a year in prison here today for stealing chickens. He is the first man in the state to be convicted under the new law.

FIGHTING EDITOR WINS

Leipsic, May 25.—The supreme court has set aside the verdict of the lower court under which Maximilian

Harden, the Berlin editor, was found guilty of libeling Count von Moltke. Harden was cheered by the crowd as he went to and left the court room.
